

Meredith G Schneider

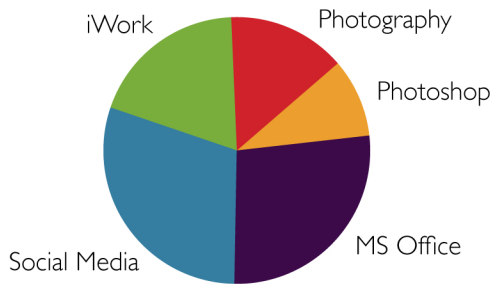

816.456.3157

meredithgschneider@gmail.com

linkedin.com/in/mschneider7 twitter.com/merelygrace

WHAT I DO MOST

EDUCATION

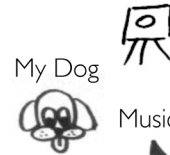

University of San Diego
Communication Studies, BA
Sept 2008 - Jan 2011

Queen Mary University of London
British Media Systems
May 2009 - August 2009

MY TOP 10 FAVORITE THINGS

Photography

My Dog

Writing

Music

Sports

Fresh Air

Baked Goods

Vintage

Sarcasm

Scrapbooks

WHERE I'VE WORKED

Reach Out USA
Youth Council Member | Mar 2011 - Present

DoubleTake Productions
Co-Founder | May 2010 - Present

87AM/Allied Digital
Executive Assistant/Accounts | Nov 2011 - Mar 2012

Examiner.com
Every Day People Examiner | May 2010 - May 2011

Steven Wetherbee Photography
Personal Assistant | Sep 2010 - Jan 2011

Golden Track Recording Studios
Personal Assistant | Sep 2010 - Jan 2011

The Vista Newspaper
Chief Copy Editor | Sept 2008 - Dec 2010

Kansas City Chiefs
Relocation Agent | Feb 2008 - Jul 2010

EXPERIENCE

Startup

Initiated a photography/film startup company achieving international acclamation within the first year.

Advertising

Designed, conceptualized, and executed company's first campaign. Also did social media advertising for many clients at several jobs.

Marketing

Analysis of market trends. Social media and key words for search terms.

Production

Filmed and edited for social media content for clients. Assisted with music production in-studio, as well as professional photography.

Multitasking

Handling the maintenance of startups, as well as nonprofit work, writing and marketing full-time, blogging, and maintaining calendars.

25 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD HIRE ME

1. I am a pop culture diva. I blame my mom.
2. I like to stay busy. This doesn't mean mindless, useless tasks. I just like to stay productive.
3. The internet is the best substitute for real knowledge. I do not know it all, but I Google it and then I do.
4. I recently re-learned how to knit. Never too late to learn something new!
5. I design my own stationery. I like personalizing things. And I like to make things memorable for others as well.
6. I am ambitious. Take my start up business, for example.
7. I make mistakes. I probably shouldn't admit that to a prospective employer, but I will let you know that I learn from them.
8. I'm a problem solver. This is self explanatory
9. I am a quick and efficient learner. No negatives in that area.
10. I moved to New York City on a whim. I had never been there. I slept on an air mattress in a dining room for an internship. What can I say? I like to try things out of my comfort zone.
11. I am a multitasker. The productive kind. Who wants to say no to that?
12. My amazing memory is the 8th world wonder. I remember everything.
13. I was always an athlete, and a cheerleader in high school. So I am tough. I can handle manual labor. And I'll do everything with a smile on my face.
14. I often make baked goods for the office. This could be the number one reason you hire me. Among many others, of course.
15. I took aerial fabric classes one summer. Simply because I wanted to.
16. I took enough AP tests and college courses in high school to skip a ton of college. I graduated a year and a half early. Talk nerdy to me.
17. I am stronger than I look. I might be small, but I am mighty. I even worked security for the NFL.
18. I can be really entertaining. Tough day? Need some new material for your stand-up night job? Chat me up. I'll help you out.
19. I really do think I can do anything I put my mind to.
20. I am writing a book. Or three. And some screenplays.
21. I love to sing. So when you're having a bad week, a bad day, a bad hour (after all, we're all entitled to that), I will perform a number—to make you laugh, of course.
22. I value constructive criticism.
23. I'm on the hunt for true company culture. I crave being surrounded by people who love what they do and work equally as hard as I do.
24. I am professional. I have the ability to gauge a situation and assert an attitude and the professionalism necessary accordingly.
25. I like to plan things out. I am currently planning two weddings, making a new business plan for my startup, and taking over the world